UNIVERSITY WOMEN MEET

At the regular meeting Tuesday of the American Association of University Women the program theme for the year, "Making Democracy Work," was carried forward by a general discussion of "Democratic Education," led by Mrs. Catherine Kirkland, supervisor of Bulloch county schools.

In her introductory remarks Mrs. Kirkland pointed out that the purpose of education in America was for the democratic way of life. "Schools," she said, "should provide education in democratic living for every child." There were contributions in the form of letters in schools from kindergarten through college given by members.

The president, Miss Ella Johnson, presided over a short business session. After adjournment the members went to Franklin's Drive-In where they were served coffee and cake.

A delightful club party was enjoyed by the Fortnighters Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grover hosts at their home on Donaldson street. An Amistade Day color motif was denoted in the use of miniature flags and a combination of red roses and other white flowers. COTILLION CLUB DANCE

A "Back to School" idea was used for the fall Cotillion Club dance which was held Thursday evening at the Forest Heights Country Club, where appropriate decorations suggested the old-fashioned school room. A picture of George Washington hung over the flag-draped mantel. About the room were arranged maps, books and a roll-top desk. The roll was called by Mrs. George Johnston, who was a long, sweeping black skirt and high-neck white waist. The roll was rung for recess and hot chicken pie, Waldorf salad, coffee and hunkies were served from a long table which was centered with a miniature of the recreation center. Middy blouses and skirts were one of the popular styles worn by a number of the guests. Old-fashioned dances were directed by Mrs. Johnston. Forty couples attended, and music was furnished by Emma Kelly's Orchestra.

Members of the Tuesday Bridge Club and other guests were entertained Friday morning by Mrs. Arthur Turner at her home on East Main street. Roses, chrysanthemums and dahlias were arranged about the room, and a salad course was served. Congress cards for high scores went to Mrs. C. B. Matthews and Mrs. B. B. Morris; for low scores plastic card table covers were received by Mrs. Roy Randall, of Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. Harry Smith. A trivet cut was won by Mrs. George Grover. FATHER-SON BANQUET DELIGHTFUL OCCASION

A delightful occasion of last Thursday was the father-son banquet at the First Baptist Church at which time the fathers entertained the sons of the church. The table was decorated in the R.A. colors of blue and gold. Program folders in the R.A. colors in the shape of the R.A. emblem added to the color scheme. Harold Tillman, counselor for the R.A., was master of ceremonies. The fathers were given a welcome by the pastor, and the response by Wendell Burke. After an interesting program of song and talks, the boys and their guests closed with the Friendship Circle. About thirty guests were present.

CROWN EXTRA GASOLINE IS REFINED in the SOUTH to suit the driving needs of the Southern motorist

When you run your car with CROWN EXTRA gasoline, you know you have selected a really premium motor fuel refined in the South, to suit the driving needs of the southern motorist.

Standard Oil Company (Kentucky) is a southern institution, in all that this word implies. We are of the South, for the South, and by the South. Our operations and properties are confined to the South, our profits reinvested in the South. Sixty percent of our stockholders live in the five southern states we serve—Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky and Mississippi.

Try CROWN EXTRA gasoline and see for yourself why it is the largest selling and most popular premium priced gasoline sold in these five southern states.

Thrill Maker from start to stop

(That's T.T. Dynaflo!)

SOMETIME soon—like this week—you ought to try a Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.*

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response—with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration—where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop—the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed—the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with T.T. Dynaflo?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised—and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 in SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

It's Trade-In Time for a Better Deal

You'll be thrilled with the top allowance we will make on your present car. Come in and see us for the happy news—now. We can give you immediate delivery.

BINGO.

In New Jersey as the issue of bingo came to a public vote, all of the major religious denominations except one denounced it as gambling. One religious leader spoke the sentiments of the other denominations as he said, "Gambling is a destructive force in personal and community life. It is just as evil when disguised under the cloak of charity, or religion as when it appears openly in the form of slot machines and rackets."

The Bible backs up this statement as it speaks against the evils in back of any kind of gambling, namely, the evil of trying to get things or money for nothing, and the evil of coveting that which belongs to another. This philosophy in their youth in school or in their home parlor, they will not depart from it when they become adults.

"Dependable Service is Right Down Our Line"

Says J. HENRY SHAW
STATSBORO DISTRICT LINEMAN

"Your electric service in Statesboro is just as dependable as humans can make it. Twenty Company employees, who know every foot of the Statesboro area, plus 5,000 other employees throughout the State, are on the job every day to see that you have enough electricity whenever and wherever you want it.

"Three high-voltage transmission lines have been built to bring power into Statesboro. Either one of these lines could serve the city if the others failed.

"We have installed the most modern and efficient electrical equipment to make your service as dependable as possible.

"We have highly trained linemen stationed right here in town. In case of trouble, we're notified in a matter of minutes by phone or over our two-way radio system—and in just a few more minutes we're on the spot getting you back on the line.

"All of these things taken together have helped us bring you dependable service ever since we've been in Statesboro. They've helped us build up a record of 27 years of electrical progress!"

J. HENRY SHAW is one of Georgia Power's trained and experienced linemen in Statesboro. He has been with the Company 20 years and has lived in Statesboro 18 years. Mr. Shaw is married and has one son. He and his family live at 315 North College Street.

NIGHT OUTLOOK BACCO FUTURE

Due - Cured Weed Has Shown Improvement During the Past Few Months

An export prospect for U. S. flue-cured tobacco has shown improvement in the past few months, J. B. Hutson, president of Tobacco Associates, Inc., said last week.

Discussing the tobacco situation with growers at a conference held in conjunction with the North Carolina Tobacco Bureau annual meeting in Raleigh on November 16th, Hutson said that "during the first eight months of this calendar year exports were valued at $100 million, or nearly 30 per cent above the corresponding period of 1964." However he added that domestic consumption for the same period has shown a small decline, with the tobacco production about two per cent below the annual average of 1952-53. This change in trend was caused by the shift to the growing of tobacco in the agricultural part of the country. The farmers, the farm leader explained, had to be induced to grow tobacco because of the purchase of tobacco products by the United Kingdom from the United States. Early in 1953, the United Kingdom, in fact, had to buy tobacco from the United States, although the United Kingdom had been a net exporter of tobacco since 1945. This was due to the fact that the United Kingdom was unable to obtain tobacco from the United States under option by the United Kingdom. At the same time, Huzar said that "export prospects of tobacco are favorable in most of the world." He said that the most significant factor in the improvement of the tobacco trade was the increased allocation of $23 million for the purchase of foreign aid funds for the purchase of additional leaf for the United Kingdom. This was used, he said, for the new being used to make pure tobacco from the cured tobacco. He said that the United Kingdom had been able to secure funds to finance the purchase of U. S. surplus agricultural commodities to furnish foreign currencies to the United Kingdom. He said, generally, is giving to the United Kingdom.

... out the agreement whereby the funds were allocated for tobacco. In this connection, the United States Tobacco Journal devoted a special issue, crediting the role of the president with being able to get the chapter and verse so accurately that the Foreign Operations Administration took appropriate action. The Tobacco Associates, a non-profit corporation, was formed in 1947 by insured growers, dealers, fertilizer companies, and others. Financed by growers themselves and their allied interests, its main objective is to promote export and expand export markets for leaf tobacco, upon which the growers depend for the sale of about 80 per cent of their crop. The stylized organization has been described as "an organization through government and all segments of the tobacco industry can work to remove some of the obstacles standing in the way of the growers."

City Councilmen

C. Parker Jr. and Osborn C. W. Boudreau are the only members who qualified for the place of alderman on the city council in the forthcoming election along with E. Rushing and A. B. McQuibben. Both qualified to succeed themselves.

After opposition.

Rushing, motel operator and a former member of the city council, was nominated for the mayor in 1932 and was elected. He is now owner and operator of the City Dairy, is a newcomer to city politics.

Boudreau, a veteran member of the council will have no opposition.

It was T. E. Rushing, who was appointed to the city council in 1932, who was the term of Mayor W. A. Osborn when Boudreau was elected to the council.

The election will be held Friday, December 4th. Members of the City Council who share terms expire with Osborn's next fall. Rufus Anderson and L. M. Foy Sr.
